

Captain Nazarene, a superhero who protects Seville's essence

LOCATION: Seville

DURATION: 1:30

SUMMARY: A new superhero has arisen, his mission is keeping the essence of Seville, and more specifically, culture that surrounds its Easter. However he also takes into account both traditional and modern sides of the city. This hero has been created by Agustín Barrera, a painter-illustrator from Seville. His adventures have already been published and also have entered the Internet under the shape of a web series.

VTR:

A penitent with hidden powers with his underwear outside, as any superhero. Keeper of the essence of Seville, the most traditional and the most modern sides. It is Captain Nazarene...

A comic character born in the mind of this painter and illustrator from Seville...

AGUSTÍN BARRERA
Creator of Captain Nazarene

"He is the keeper of Seville's essence, as the title says, a character that comes to defend Seville's cultural integrity."

...And he already has his own web series... nemesis included.

A villain who wants to destroy the Pelli Tower, an under construction skyscraper of the city. Captain Nazarene will stop him.

JESÚS BARRERA
Scriptwriter and editor

"In the first comic he fights against graffiti painters who are drawing over his virgin's tile. He doesn't fight against them because they are graffiti painters, he does it because they are not doing art. And he explains them what street art is."

Of course there is humour, but always respectful to this holy tradition of Easter. The proof is that, in real life, the protagonist actor is an enthusiast of this religious event.

ANTONIO CAMACHO
Actor

"I like Easter, for me it is a tradition that characterizes us, very typical in Seville. Yes, I dress up as a Nazarene in Seville."

RAÚL HERNÁNDEZ
Mr. Donovan Studio

"For example, people have even asked us to which fraternity he belonged; then, we explained that we were filming, that it was a character..."

It is a project of the publishing company 'A cat on a bike' and the producing company 'Mr. Donovan'. Now they are working in the new adventures of Captain Nazarene. His secret weapon: a candle.

AGUSTÍN BARRERA
Creator of Captain Nazarene

"That is used to launch squirts and turn criminals in wax balls."

The keeper of the essence of Seville, who leaves us also protecting the environment.
