"The truth is that I have seen many sun sets in different places and each one has its charm, but this one is special."

In summer a company from Cádiz offers this cruise every day to observe the sun set. The trip is short, not more than an hour. The destination is the Sancti Petri Islet, a sacred place since the times of the Phoenicians; where Julius Caesar arrived to pray in the old Heracles temple.

"It is amazing for people who come from other places, and people who live here value it as what it is."

Slowly the sun starts to hide behind the castle. Its light starts acquiring red, rose, purple and orange tonalities. A physical effect called Rayleigh. The emotions it arouses, that still has no name.

"I didn't give it much credibility, it didn't seem to me so... but when I have seen it I have enjoyed it."

"The truth is that it is impressive, it is very beautiful, it's worth it."

TOURISTS

"Spectacular"

"Why?"

"Because I had never seen a sun set."

Hundreds of tourists have seen the sun set from here this summer. For some it has been the first one but for all, it has been certainly unforgettable.
