

Entrepreneurship on two wheels: a young man in Almería restores bicycles from the past

LOCATION: Aguadulce, Roquetas de Mar (Almería)

DURATION: 1'23"

SUMMARY: Adrián Asensio is an entrepreneur who has started an antique bicycles restoration business. There he has been able to recover pieces from the beginning of the twentieth century. This way clients who attend this shop are able to recover the bicycles of their childhood or those that belonged to a relative. Adrián takes care of looking for the model and restoring it using materials such as leather or wood.

CLIENT

"I would like to know if you could fix my bicycle, it belonged to my grandfather. This is my father and I would like know if you could restore it."

Antonio has arrived to his ideal place. An antique bicycles restoration workshop where nostalgic can buy or recover these relics on wheels.

ADRIÁN ASENSIO
Manager of 'Asensio Bike'

"Bicycles people bring me are unfit for circulation. In addition, they are in a pretty bad condition, not just their components but also their paint. First we completely disassemble the bike."

Clients can choose materials, from leather to wood. Handlebars with different tones of leather, rivets of all kind and hand paintings.

MAURICIO GARCÍA
Bicycle designer

"What appearance they want to give the bicycle, original or updated. We look for components and in case they don't fit we use mechanics to adapt them, it is updated."

ADRIÁN ASENSIO
Manager of 'Asensio Bike'

"This is how this bicycle from 1910 arrived and, what do you think the result of my work is?"

The result is evident: a bicycle from the beginning of the twentieth century as good as new.

JOSÉ ANTONIO CID
Client

"I have been able to get what I always wanted: restoring my grandfather's bicycle from the sixties. And from now on I will enjoy my dream which has always been restoring it."

A dream that has come true thanks to Adrian, a young entrepreneur who thinks that bicycles aren't just for summer, but for all seasons.
