

Now it is possible to fix your car without leaving your house and in reliable repair shops

LOCATION: Seville

DURATION: 1'40"

SUMMARY: It is Bubocar, the project in which Sevillian entrepreneur Sergio Fuentes attempts to revolutionize the automotive industry in Spain. After a malfunction, the client enters their data and the car's information on the website (www.bubocar.com). Within a few hours, they receive the visit of a technician who offers a diagnosis and an estimated price for the repair. If the client accepts it, the technician takes the vehicle to the shop and returns it once it's been repaired.

One morning, Santiago's car breaks down. How unlucky. But who hasn't had this happen before?

"We give clients the opportunity to repair their cars without having to leave their house."

This is the main function of Bubocar, a service created by this Sevillian entrepreneur. The car will end up in a repair shop. Before, the client has to visit the website and enter their own information and the car's data. And in a few hours, they'll receive a call from a technician.

AMBIENCE: Good morning. I am a technician from Bubocar. When would it work for us to check your vehicle?

SERGIO FUENTES
Creator of Bubocar.com

"Bubocar was made to help users trust mechanics and to help shops find clients."

The client, with little knowledge about mechanics, receives a visit from a trusted person who tells them exactly what is wrong with the vehicle before taking it to the shop. They give them a diagnosis.

ALEJANDRO POLO
Technician

"That we perform with our mobile vehicle diagnostic tool in the place where the customer sees fit. At home or at work."

Next, they present an estimate: how much would the repair cost using one of the 10 partners in the city. Bubocar will take full responsibility for the quality of the repair.

"They go through a quality audit to ensure we offer clients quality repairs."

JUAN ANTONIO MARTÍNEZ
Chief mechanic

"Clients are confident because before doing anything and taking the car to the shop, they are told what needs to be fixed and how much it is going to cost."

If the client accepts the proposal, the technician will bring their car to the shop and return it once it's been repaired. Bubocar currently only operates from Seville, but they want to expand to all of Spain in 2017. They aim to revolutionize the automotive industry.
