

Theatre against gender violence with a company that adapts its play for the deaf community

LOCATION: Seville

DURATION: 1'45"

SUMMARY: Dinamo de creación is a Sevillian company that uses theatre to express social denunciation. 'Callar para que no exista' (Not speaking so it doesn't exist) tells the story of the Candela, a gender violence victim, throughout her childhood and marriage. Today, she remembers how she hit bottom before she started to live again. This play has also been designed to be accessible for the deaf community. On stage, two actresses and two languages: oral and sign.

VTR:

'Callar para que no exista' or 'Not speaking so it doesn't exists'. This is the story of Candela, a woman who hit bottom and started to live again. Because gender violence isn't a life sentence.

AMBIENCE: "We will braid your pain with your sorrow and do a tight braid".

Dinamo de creación is a Sevillian company that uses theatre to express social denunciation. She is Candela, and so is she. A play in two languages: oral and sign. That's how they make theatre accesible for the deaf community. They explain the rest...

AITANA DOMÍNGUEZ

Actress

"Why do they have to miss something that is meant to be for everyone?"

MAGALY FERNÁNDEZ

Actress

"You have to synchronize with your partner and everything must be planned down to the last detail."

AITANA DOMÍNGUEZ

Actress

"It requires many, many, many hours of rehearsal."

AMBIENCE: "You have been here all this time. How are you kid?"

MARÍA LEBRATO

Director

"There are many people who have come to see the play and have found a reflection of their lives."

MAGALY FERNÁNDEZ

Actress

"Our script is hard but the symbolism we have used has considerably softened it."

AMBIENCE: "I have a doll dressed in blue."

MARÍA LEBRATO

Director

"We want to describe a hard reality but there's a way out."

"And it is moving, of course."

MAGALY FERNÁNDEZ

Actress

AITANA DOMÍNGUEZ

Actress

"There are very humorous moments."

AMBIENCE: "A lady eats with her mouth closed and silently. Short hair is for tomboys."

MAGALY FERNÁNDEZ
Actress

"You have to see the play, but it has very beautiful things."

AMBIENCE: "How to be a good woman and not to fail."

For more information or support please call +34 662 369 820 or email info@andalusianstories.com