VTR:

ALFONSO AGUILAR 'PERRORARO'
Graphic designer

"Due to the characteristics that he shared with another enlightened character. Obi Wan Kenobi is a Star Wars character who is a master, all he does is fighting evil. It has a lot of similarities with a monastic order."

Alfonso is against using a religious image to create controversy. Before launching this design he consulted it with his religious friends and claims that it could be a way to increase the popularity of this friar among young people.

"It is nice to recover a very local figure, very popular in Granada, and maybe it can reach young people who haven't paid attention to this type of things. Somehow it is a nod, a tribute to the figure of Friar Leopoldo."

The benefits obtained from sales will serve a good cause and will be destined to charity organizations. The author states that most probably these funds will go to the Capuchin order to provide financial support to their social work.
