VTR:

Míranos is a website that works with an app to help create a community in which parents, teachers, and therapists work together for the benefit of children with autistic disorders. Míranos is the answer for those involved in the education of these children.

JUAN CARLOS GONZÁLEZ MAIZAPPS

"All the effort these different professionals put in can be conjunctively used for the student's benefit."

This is the fourth app designed by Maíz Apps, launched by Juan Carlos. Throughout this journey it has been his son, Darío, who has guided him to look for the solutions to these needs. Míranos creates direct communication channels.

MIRANDA ROJAS Darío's Mother

"Míranos provides more help to the family because until now there has not been a lot of communication between all the parties involved in the education of children with autism."

There isn't specific data about Spain, but studies conducted in Europe show one case of the autism disorder for every 100 births. A child spends most of his time in school, and with the collaboration of the Education Ministry and the Autism Federation of Andalucía, the app has arrived in the schools.

JUAN CARLOS GONZÁLEZ MAIZ APPS

"Everyone can work better and save time preparing and managing the material so that they can then dedicate more time to the students' development."

It gives access to specific material and even allows the design of a work program based in activities to track their progress.

MANUEL LINARES Director of Kibo Studios

"We are able to share libraries of fantastic pictograms, worksheets, and exercises with the whole Míranos community."

JAVIER PLAZA Algoritmus Centre Therapist

"It's very, very interesting because it also allows us to have on hand many resources that we can access in a short time period."

The Míranos initiative is part of the Minerva program that is promoted by the Andalusian Government and Vodafone.
