VTR:

A live song as a gift. That's what Pilar, also known as 'La Pili', offers through the project she is developing in Málaga 'Canción donde tú', in English 'A song where you are'.

PILAR ESTEBAN 'LA PILI'
Singer

"Which song do people want? Which song do you want? So I prepare it and sing it to them."

BACKGROUND

"Are you Alejandra? We have a surprise for you..."

As easy as reaching Pilar, choosing a song and setting the scene. That's what Tatiana did when she prepared a surprise for her couple, Alejandra.

PILAR ESTEBAN 'LA PILI'
Singer

"That's part of the reason why I do it. People love when someone sings a song for them, looking right into their eyes. That doesn't happen in concerts. As I always say, there's a distance between you and the artist. That's what I want to avoid."

BACKGROUND

"Come on, tell me everything that is going on with you"

"Very romantic. In addition, she does it with much sensibility and is very intimate."

CLIENTS

"I know that it is not usual that Tati does this type of things, but I think that she was great and did it with much love. So I am happy and grateful."

But before this beautiful moment, Pilar had to prepare the performance with Ana, who is also part of the project.

ANA PAZ
Musician

"What I like most are the reactions of people."

PILAR ESTEBAN 'LA PILI'
Singer

"There's a little bit of everything. People surprise, some people are very shy. And there is always a lot of emotion."

BACKGROUND

"And give me water from your crystalline fountain."

CLIENT

"I loved it, because it is very emotional. You get into it and it also transmits a lot."

A gift that makes an impact on everyone and surprises, despite it is not wrapped.
